Eduardo Antoja To Join Summit Panel On Self –Exclusion

With the eagerly anticipated new style EUROMAT Summit scheduled for 4th-6th June 2018, senior figures from the world of gaming and amusements are preparing for their roles as speakers and panellists at the event.

Eduardo Antoja is one participant who will certainly be familiar with the Summit, having served two terms as EUROMAT President; a combined total of 10 years. Eduardo actually instigated the event on commencing his first term in 1999.

Eduardo has enjoyed a long career in the gaming industry, starting when he became CEO of CIRSA Industrial Division, taking responsibility for product development, manufacturing and marketing of gaming devices and systems. CIRSA is one of the larger European and Latin American operators of casinos, bingo and single-site games, as well as online and offline betting and gaming systems.

In 2010 Eduardo started his own independent consultancy, Barcelona-based Intrepid Consult, providing a comprehensive range of services for its gaming industry customers. Intrepid Consult's clients include technology companies in Germany, Italy and Spain.

Currently, Eduardo serves the Spanish gaming industry as Executive Vice –President of the operator's association COFAR.

Eduardo will sit on the panel of Summit session: Self exclusion; Is It Working And How Do You Manage It To Be Effective? Speaking about the event, Eduardo commented, "I'm very pleased that the EUROMAT Annual Summit, started in 1999, is now consolidated as the main European gaming industry event of its type."

Current president Jason Frost welcomed Eduardo Antoja's participation: "Eduardo has contributed enormously to EUROMAT over the years and we're delighted that he has agreed to be a panellist. He will be joining an impressive team, comprising industry leaders and specialists in the issues confronting European land-based gaming," confirmed Jason
